TICKET SELECTED BY REPUBLICANS

Dr. Wm. Casey Named as Candidate for Township Trustee at Enthusiastic Convention.

A. A. RUDDICK FOR ASSESSOR

Henry P. Miller Chosen as Nominee for Justice—Unusual Interest Marks the Meeting.

Republican Township Ticket.

For Trustee,
DR. W. M. CASEY.

For Assessor,
A. A. RUDDICK.

For Justice of Peace,
HENRY P. MILLER.

At one of the largest and most enthusiastic conventions ever held by the Republicans of Jackson township the above ticket was nominated Friday night. The meeting was held at the city building and the council chamber was crowded with loyal Republicans who manifested great interest in the selection of the candidates.

Because of the friendly but spirited contest for trustee general interest was centered in the nomination of the candidate for that place. Dr. W. M. Casey and Edward C. Rinne, both well known throughout the township, were the candidates and were loyally supported by their friends. The vote was close being 56 to 49 in favor of Dr. Casey.

The meeting was called to order by E. Blish Thompson, township chairman, and he was named as permanent chairman. Albert Johnson, township secretary, was chosen as the permanent secretary of the convention. After the chairman had stated the purpose of the meeting nominations for trustee were called for. Perry Taulman nominated Dr. Casey and Henry Bretthauer placed the name of Mr. Rinne before the convention.

It was decided that the voting should be done by secret ballot and arrangements were made whereby the voters cast their votes in a hat placed in the front part of the room. Fred Everback, Harry Finley and Mr. Johnson were the tellers.

When the result was announced Dr. Casey was asked for a speech and he thanked those present for their support and said that he would make a thorough canvass of the township during the campaign. His remarks brought forth a round of applause after which Mr. Rinne was called upon for a speech. In reply he stated that "I'm for Casey," thereby pledging his support to the nominee.

Upon the call for nomination for township assessor J. H. Andrews nominated A. A. Ruddick. As there were no other candidates Mr. Ruddick was declared the nominee by acclamation. The name of Henry P. Miller was placed in nomination for justice of peace by Charles Brand. He was also nominated by acclamation. As there are three justices in this township the committee was empowered to name the other two and also the candidates for constables.

After the ticket was completed Judge Oscar H. Montgomery and Judge John M. Lewis were asked for speeches and both were enthusiastic over the prospects for Republican success in the campaign and predicted the election of the Republican township ticket.

The Republicans are gratified with the success of the convention Friday night and especially with the interest shown. The attendance was the largest for many years and those present were pleased with the prospects for success in the election. The ticket is unusually strong and meets with the hearty approval of the Republicans in the township.

The successful candidate for trustee is widely known having been a practicing physician in Seymour for many years. His ability to fill the office to the entire satisfaction of the taxpayers is unquestioned. He is recognized as a splendid business man and is exceptionally well qualified for the position he is seeking.

Mr. Ruddick is an energetic young man and is well known. The township assessor is an important position but the voters may rest assured that he will conduct the affairs of that office in a businesslike manner. He formerly resided in Seymour but moved southwest of the city a short time ago. Mr. Miller served as justice of peace for a number of years and is well acquainted with the duties of that office. He has a wide acquaintance throughout the township.

HARRY EBBERTS REMAINS IN A SERIOUS CONDITION

Prisoner at County Jail Who Attempted to End His Life is Not Yet Out of Danger.

The condition of Harry Ebberts, a prisoner at the county jail awaiting trial for forgery and larceny who tried to commit suicide Thursday night, was slightly improved today although he is not yet out of danger. He attempted to end his life by swallowing small pieces of tin which he broke from the lid of a tobacco can.

Ebberts is still suffering considerably and there is no question in the minds of the officials but that he endeavored to take his own life. He has little to say about his attempt to commit suicide. His wife and mother, who were in Brownstown at the time were permitted to visit him at the jail. Mrs. Ebberts is alleged attempted to aid her husband in escaping from the officers by stepping in front of the deputy sheriff while the prisoner made a dash for liberty. He was recaptured about two blocks from the jail.

Notice G. A. R. and W. R. C.

All members are requested to meet at the hall Sunday at 10:00 a. m. and go to the Christian church for Memorial sermon.

John Hunterman, Commander.

Mrs. Katherine Sutton, who was arrested at Crothersville Thursday night was arraigned in circuit court this morning on a charge of contributing to a girl's delinquency and pleaded not guilty. She denied the charge and said she desired an opportunity to prove her innocence.

The last shipment of foreign pictures for the art exhibit arrived this afternoon. Wednesday will be practically the first day for public inspection, Tuesday having been set aside as membership day.

From today on Alberts' carpet cleaning compound can be had at Huntman's wall paper store.

TEN FREIGHT CARS THROWN IN DITCH

B. & O. Southwestern Trains Nos. 32 and 57 in Collision at Willow Valley this Afternoon.

NONE OF THE CREW WAS HURT

Seymour and Washington Relief Crews Called to Scene—Passenger Trains are Detoured.

Traffic on the B. & O. Southwestern Railroad between this city and Washington was blocked this afternoon by a wreck which occurred at 1 o'clock at Willow Valley, fourteen miles west of Mitchell, where ten cars were derailed when westbound freight train No. 57 "sideswiped" eastbound freight No. 32. The latter train was pulling into a siding and the westbound train was on the main track. According to information received at the offices here none of the crews was hurt.

Train No. 32 was in charge of Newton Jones, conductor, and Engineer Will Lloyd. Will Hamer was conductor on No. 57 and Joe Hulise was at the throttle. Three cars on the westbound train were derailed and seven on the eastbound train were thrown from the track. Several of them were loaded with merchandise.

The Seymour wrecking crew was called and was assisted by the Washington relief train. It will be about eight o'clock before the track is opened. Passenger trains Nos. 1 and 11, westbound, and 2 and 6, eastbound, were detoured over the Vandallia road from Vincennes to Gosport and over the Monon from Gosport to Mitchell. Eastbound trains this afternoon were necessarily late.

Several of the cars were demolished and others were badly damaged, according to the first reports received here this afternoon.

WORK ON CONCRETE ROADS WILL BE STARTED SOON

DeGolyer & Masters Ship Machinery from Rushville Where They Complete $7,000 Contract.

Work on the new concrete highways in Brownstown township will be started in a few days. DeGolyer & Masters, a local firm, have the contract. The contractors have just completed a $7,000 contract at Rushville which they started three weeks ago. The equipment has been loaded on freight cars and will arrive at Brownstown the first of the week.

Much attention is being given to the new concrete roads in this county and Brownstown township is among the first to use this material on the public roads. Although the concrete road will not be of great length it will be sufficient to thoroughly test that material for county road work. Petitions filed with the commissioners asking for the construction of concrete roads in this township are still pending.

VETERAN TO GIVE ANNUAL ADDRESS

James S. Campbell Accepts Invitation to Speak at Decoration Day Exercises Here.

MEMORIAL SUNDAY SERVICES

G. A. R. and Relief Corps Will Attend Christian Church Tomorrow Morning to Hear Sermon.

Memorial Day, Saturday, May 30, is the next holiday on the calendar and already preparations are being made here for the proper observance of the day. The public exercises are in charge of the Grand Army of the Republic and the Relief Corps and the committee has announced that James S. Campbell, of Crothersville, has accepted the invitation to deliver the Decoration Day address.

Mr. Campbell is a veteran of the civil war having served in the Sixth Indiana Regiment of Volunteers. He is a fluent speaker and a splendid patriotic address is promised. The meeting will be held at the Majestic Theater and the G. A. R. and Relief Corps will attend in a body.

As usual a parade will be arranged after the meeting. The Sunday School children of the city have been asked to march to the cemetery with the veterans. The Seymour Company of National Guards will also be asked to join in the parade. Conveyances will be provided for the Relief Corps and the veterans who are unable to walk to the cemetery.

The committee in charge of the exercises at the Majestic has not yet completed the musical program which will be given. This will be ready for publication the first of the week.

The annual Memorial Sunday address will be delivered at the Christian Church Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock by the pastor, Rev. Edward L. Pettus. The church will be decorated with flags, bunting and flowers in honor of the exercises. The G. A. R. and Relief Corps will meet at the Post hall at 10 o'clock and march to the church.

Another feature of Memorial Day which is opposed by the G. A. R. of Indiana and which attracts great crowds is the Speedway events at Indianapolis. The demand for seats has already been large and an immense crowd is expected on that day. Several foreign drivers have entered the races which will be witnessed by many local people.

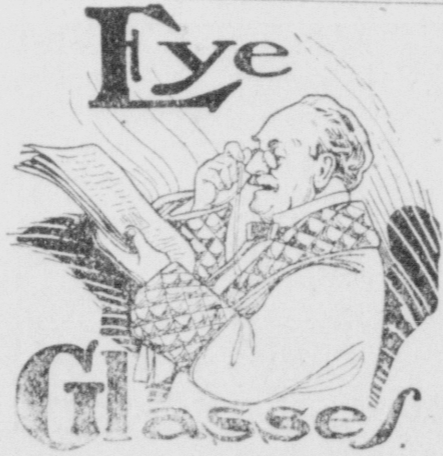

The Indiana G. A. R. has adopted resolutions against these races upon the ground that they detract from the spirit of the day and the real purpose of Decoration Day is lost in the newer attractions which are provided for pecuniary profit. However, the Speedway events will be held again this year and promise to draw a larger crowd than even before.

ANTHONY RICHART, SEXTON AT RIVERVIEW CEMETERY, DEAD

Well Known Citizen Passed Away Friday Night After Lingered Illness—Funeral Monday.

After a long, lingering illness Anthony Richart, who lived at 824 North Ewing street, died at 9:55 o'clock Friday night. He was born in Mallemheim, France, November 25, 1836, and at the time of his death was seventy-eight years, five months and twenty-seven days old. He is survived by a widow, and four children. They are: Mrs. Frank Krebs, of Indianapolis, Mrs. Lucy Ambler and William Richart, of Cincinnati, and Edward J. Richart, of Oklahoma City, Okla. He also leaves one brother, Louis Richart, of the Jennings County Line, and one sister, Mrs. Mary Maschino.

Mr. Richart was three years of age when his parents immigrated to this county and settled in Jennings county. He lived there until he was twenty-five years of age when the civil war was declared and he enlisted in the Twenty-Sixth Indiana Regiment. He served several years in the army and when he was given his discharge he returned to his vicinity.

Mr. Richart was twice married. His first wife was Miss Mary Agnes Kane and to this union were born two daughters. His wife died ten years after their marriage, and three years later Mr. Richart was married to Anna Master. To them were born three children, William, Edward J., and George, deceased.

For twenty-eight years Mr. Richart was sexton at Riverview cemetery and either made or supervised the work of digging the majority of the graves there. He was always faithful to his duties and held the place until he was compelled to retire because of the condition of his health. He was beloved not only by his family, but by his wide acquaintance. He was of a cheerful disposition and even during his long illness accepted his lot without a murmur of complaint. He was a lifelong and devoted member of the Catholic church and when in good health attended the services regularly.

The funeral will be held from the St. Ambrose Catholic church, Monday morning at 9 o'clock. Interment at St. Ambrose cemetery.

MRS. HENRY KASTING IS STRICKEN SUDDENLY

Died This Morning of Heart Trouble at the Home of Her Son, Four Miles South of City.

Mrs. Henry Kasting, aged seventy-seven years, died suddenly this morning at the home of her son, Ed Kasting, four miles south of the city, of stomach and heart trouble. She was born in Germany and was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Tormoehlen. The family moved to Cincinnati after coming to this country and the deceased came to Seymour after her marriage to Henry Kasting. He died twenty-six years ago. The deceased is survived by one daughter, Mrs. John Wiese, of Indianapolis, two sons, Henry, of this city, and Ed, who lives south of Seymour. She also leaves a number of grand children and great grandchildren.

The funeral will occur Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock from the residence and at 2 o'clock from the German Lutheran church, conducted by Rev. E. H. Eggers. Burial at the Lutheran cemetery.

MEDIATORS MUST NOT HASTEN WORK

Diplomats Embarrassed by Impatience of Public Awaiting Adjustment of Trouble.

MAIN PROBLEMS NOT TOUCHED

Envoys Getting Acquainted and Are Studying the Issues to be Presented for Solution.

Niagara Falls, Ontario, May 21—A great deal of embarrassment is felt by the envoys of Brazil, Argentina and Chile, as well as by the delegates of the Washington and Mexico City governments, because of the impatience of the public, which is awaiting an adjustment of the Mexican question. Every day they are overwhelmed with inquiries as to the part the Constitutionalists may play in the negotiations looking to the composition of differences between Huerta and the United States, and similar questions. The most persistent relate to the future of Huerta and whether his resignation has been demanded.

As a matter of fact, not one of the vital issues have been reached, and it would relieve those working here if the public could understand that in diplomacy more than in any other work it is necessary to make haste slowly. Until the preliminaries of the mediation conference could be smoothed out the South American envoys did not hope to say how long the conferences would continue. After separate sessions last night with delegates from Mexico and the United States, the mediators said they were almost ready to proceed in the regular way.

The situation so far was explained by a spokesman for the mediators and the delegates in order to clear away the misunderstandings. It is this:

Notwithstanding introductions in Washington, the South American diplomats, the representatives of the United States and of the Huerta government, came together practically as strangers, and also with imperfect knowledge of the issues to be presented. As in all negotiations of this character time necessarily was consumed in becoming acquainted and in reaching an understanding of each other's personal idiosyncrasies.

When President Wilson and General Huerta accepted the good offices of the South American envoys to settle their differences, the latter felt certain that the Niagara Falls conferences would be pregnant of great possibilities, and reach far beyond peace in Mexico and touch the peace of the whole western hemisphere. They now feel the delicacy of their positions and are doing their utmost to avoid any false steps that might endanger the success of their efforts.

The Manufacture of Gas and Electricity

ITS ADVANTAGES AND THE IMPORTANT BEARING IT HAS ON OUR INDUSTRIES

The Interstate Public Service Company Which Controls Seymour's Gas and Electric Supply, is Giving Better Service Today Than Ever Before.

MANY IMPORTANT IMPROVEMENTS MADE

Since The Present Management Has Come Into Control and Many More Will be Made as Needed.—Plant in Splendid Condition.

No discovery in modern times has had as great an effect on industries and conveniences of today as that of electricity and artificial gas. Not only in great cities but in cities the size of Seymour electricity manufactured and distributed from a central power plant is becoming more and more the great force that drives the wheels in our factories and furnishes illumination for our streets and homes. Our older citizens can well remember when, unless the moon happened to be shining, the streets were in deep darkness; even the younger generation can realize the value of our modern lighting system when some unforeseen accident happens to the possessing one of the best equipped power plants for the manufacture of electricity and gas in the state. It compares most favorably with plants in cities of double its population, controlled as it is by the Interstate Public Service Company, a company which operates three other plants and whose sole aim is to furnish the best power and gas that the employment of money and brains can produce to be sold at reasonable and legitimate price.

A very interesting hour may be spent at the power plant watching and learning the different operations that are gone through with in manufacturing artificial gas. Two kinds of coal, tar and ammonia is cooled and condensed into liquid form, running into the tar well.

When gas was first discovered the heat was applied directly to the lower part of the retort but it was soon observed that the high temperature to which it was necessary to expose it for the perfect decomposition of the coal proved destructive to the lower side and rendered it useless long before the upper side had sustained much injury. So a way was looked for to do away with this and an experiment was tried by interposing a brick archway between the fire and the retort and to compensate for the diminished intensity of the heat by a more equally diffused distribution of it over the surface of the retort, this proved effective and did away with the great loss in retorts.

The retorts are kept at a bright red heat, though for coal rich in gas the required heat is not so great as for that needed for coal less rich. As the retorts in one setting are necessarily subject to somewhat different amounts of heat the charges in those nearest the furnace fire and consequently most highly heated must be drawn more frequently than the others as otherwise the quality of the gas would be deteriorated and a large proportion of sulphur compounds would be given off from the over-burnt coke.

The gas is then forced through a purifier by a Number 4 exhaust engine, after which it is piped to the condensing room where it goes through another cooling process. By this time the temperature of the gas has been lowered considerably and it is "washed" and that literally as it is forced through a seal of water one-fourth inch wide which removes a great many of the foreign substances. Then another cooling process through a water condenser which further lowers the temperature. Next it is scrubbed doing away with all particles of coal tar or Naphthalin that may have escaped the first washing. It is next conducted through two great iron purifying boxes and forced through an iron sponge which relieves it of every particle of sulphur and foreign matter. From there it goes through an immense meter that measures the supply made every twenty-four hours.

The object sought in an ordinary scrubber is to cause a large amount of gas to come in contact with the smallest possible quantity of water, so as at once to dissolve out ammoniacal gases which are exceedingly soluble in water, to obtain a strong ammoniacal liquor from the scrubber and at the same time as far as possible prevent the heavy hydrocarbons from being acted on. The form of the scrubber is like a small sized stand-pipe vertically divided in two and filled with coke, etc. The gas passes up one side and down the other and from the top a small stream of weak ammoniacal liquor trickles down.

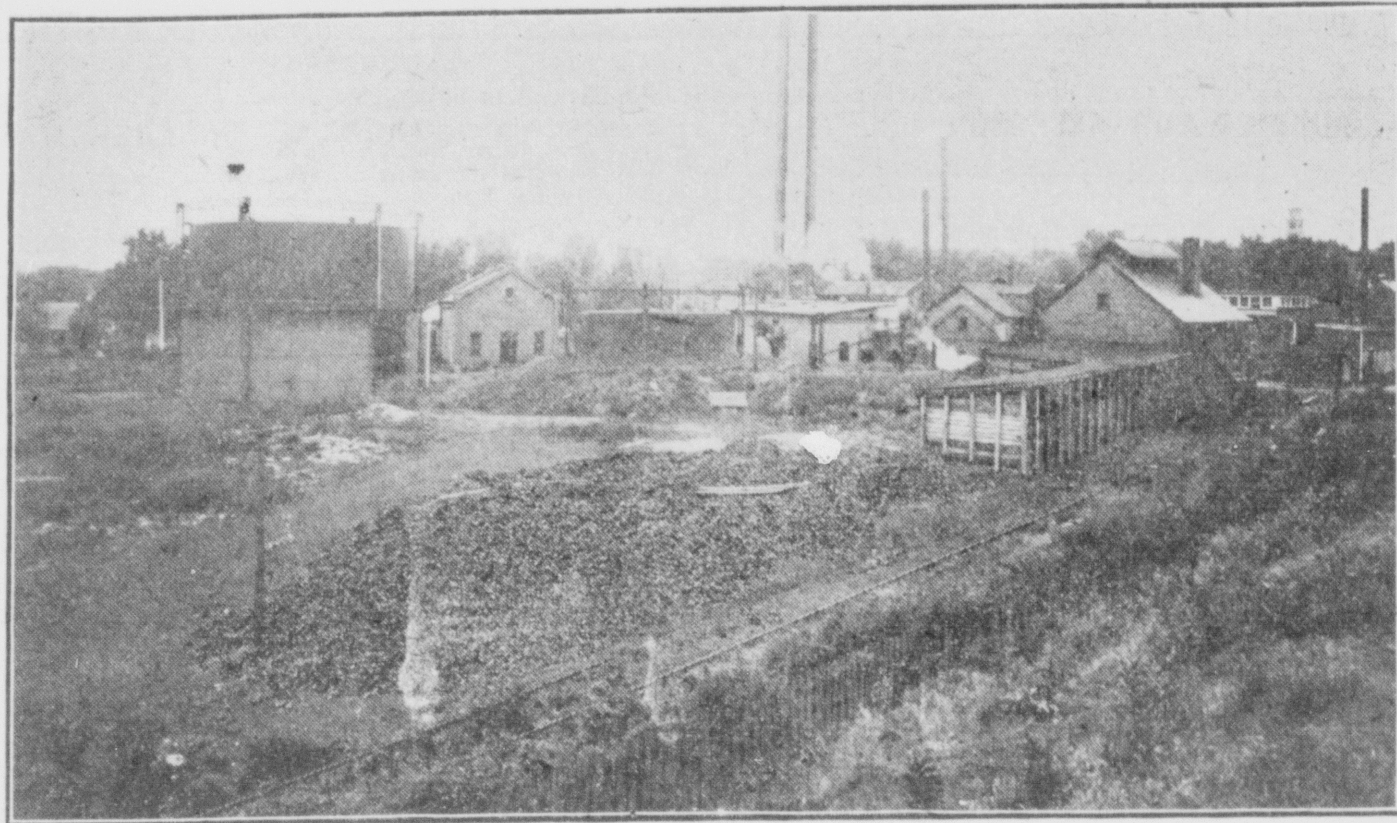

Now the gas is ready for consumption and is piped into two large tanks or holders, one having a capacity of 57,000 cubic feet and the smaller with a 20,000 cubic feet capacity. From the holders it is introduced into the manufacture of paving and roofing pitch, artificial dye stuff, various drugs and other articles; and the ammoniacal liquor as a raw material for the manufacture of ammonia in various forms. The products from one hundred pounds of gas coal will be about sixty-five pounds of coke, five hundred cubic feet of gas, three-fifths gallon of tar, one and one-third gallons of ammoniacal liquor containing twenty-three hundredths to thirty-two hundredths pound of

The street main and service pipes are tubes of malleable or cast iron, the gauge of which must be arranged according to the quantity of gas to be supplied, the length it has to travel and the pressure under which it is carried forward. Practical gas engineers possess elaborated tables of data for the regulation of the size of their various pipes. Notwithstanding the utmost care and accuracy in the laying and fitting of street mains, leakage at joints is a constant source and save as many steps as possible. "This kitchen is to be for the use of the public," said Miss Kerkhof. "We are always glad to explain the features of it and it is always at the disposal of religious bodies or any other orders that may desire its use."

Frequent demonstrations are carried on in the downtown office in which cooking lessons are given, cooking utensils are demonstrated and the public is taught the proper and economical use of gas and electricity as pure ammonia.

The chief by product of the manufacture of gas, is of course coke and its value varies according to local circumstances but generally sells for from $5.50 to $6.00 per ton and the local demand is good, as it is found to be a most economical and heating fuel many families relying entirely on it for their winter's fuel.

Ammoniacal liquor is also a valuable product and is used entirely in manufacturing ammonia, although a great deal of it is used as an agricultural fertilizer.

The coal tar probably has the widest range of use of any of the by products, the benzol obtained in the first stage of distillation is the basis of aniline and its various dyes; naphtha is used as a solvent, and for the lighting and for other purposes. Carbolic acid in addition to its employment as an antiseptic is the basis of many valuable dyes.

The gas is kept at a brightness of seventeen candle power. This is measured automatically and at any time that it does not measure up to the requirements an enricher is promptly used which places it back to normal.

Artificial gas when first discovered in 1792 by William Murdoch, a Scotchman, was thought to be dangerous and it was a long time before it really became popular and used extensively, how popular may be gathered from these figures. The amount of gas used in the United States in 1890 according to government report was 36,519,511,510 cubic feet; in 1900 68,265,496,168, a gain of 87 per cent and is steadily gaining in popularity. This gas was sold at an average price of $1.42 per thousand feet. In 1900 there were $567,000,506 invested in this industry and of course this has greatly increased since as almost every town of any consequence has its artificial gas plant especially since the supply of natural gas has practically been exhausted.

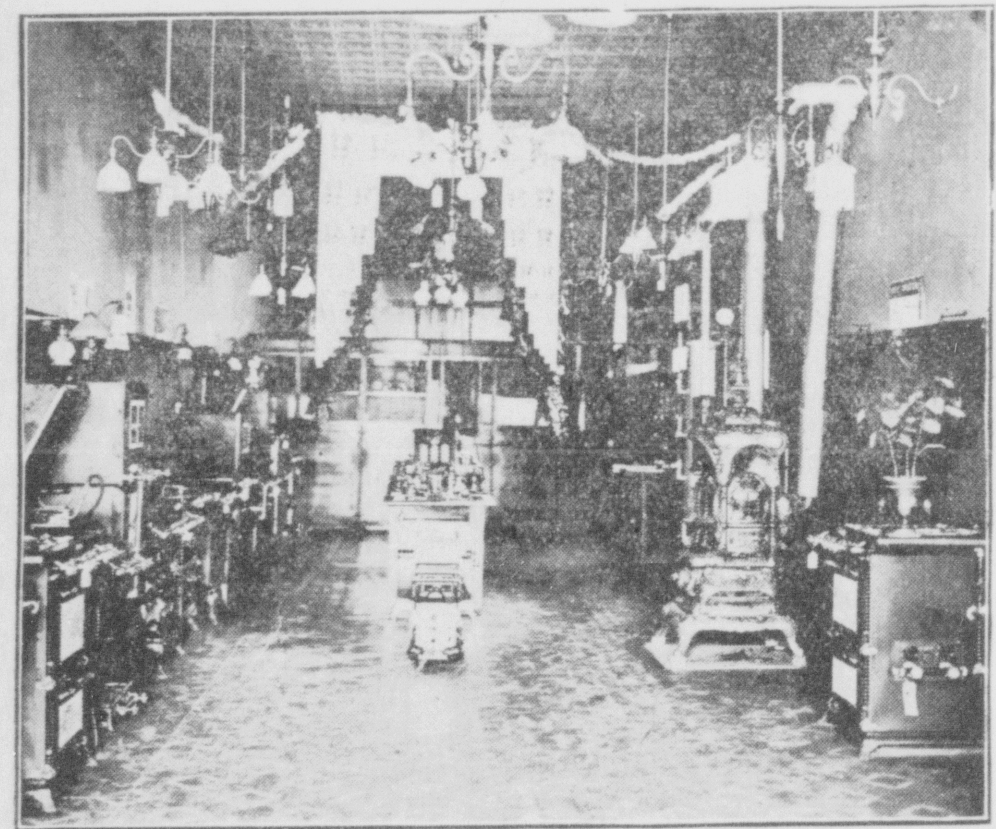

Two great engines, of the Fitchburg make and tandem compound type, developing 250 horse power and 150 horse power, respectively, are used to rotate the generators that manufacture the electricity. These generators have a capacity of 300 kilowatts. The largest of the two is used during the day and until midnight when the load is the heaviest and the smaller during the night when the consumption of electricity is not so great. Two boilers, one a Heine Water Tube, the other an Erie, each develop 250 horse power and consume 18,000 pounds of coal every twenty-four hours furnishing the power for the plant.

The plant now known as the Interstate Public Service Company was first organized and operated by local capital about thirty-five years ago and has seen some very rough going, at one time being in the hands of a receiver for about four years. But since it has been taken over by the present owners, who took charge in 1912, things have gone on very successfully. Assured of sufficient financial backing, the capacity for the manufacturing of gas has been increased to 150,000 cubic feet every twenty-four hours. The service has been improved in every respect, gas mains have been extended to every portion of the city, the power plant has been enlarged and improved and things in general are in a much better condition than ever before.

of annoyance. Under the most favorable conditions there is a discrepancy of from 7 to 8 per cent, between the gas made and the gas accounted for by consumption, and the greater part of their loss is due to leakage in street pipes. To convey the gas from the main pipes and distribute it in houses pipes of lead or of black tin are generally used.

Mr. George B. Thomas, district manager, who is located at Columbus and has the management of the Seymour, Columbus, Franklin and Greenwood plants, is enthusiastic in his views of the power and lighting question in Seymour. "Of all the plants that I have the management of and the many others that I have visited over the state, I believe that the Seymour plant is turning out the best product and giving the best service. The gas is of the highest quality and while the idea of furnishing power for factories from a central plant is practically new, the company is highly a fuel and for lighting purposes. These demonstrations under the guidance of Miss Kerkhof assume the appearance of social functions and each person in attendance is assured of a hearty welcome with some of the good things prepared, as refreshments. "We do not care to have any secrets from the public," said Miss Kerkhof, "and to treat everyone alike. Of course occasions arise as in every business in which the consumer feels that he or she is not getting a square deal but in most cases an explanation generally shows the patron that we are right. Of course, sometimes there are mistakes made in reading meters but that straightens itself out of its own accord. We are only too glad to teach consumers how to read their own meters. In fact it is much desired on our part that everyone should know this and we can show them how in five minutes' time so they may keep track of their consumption of gas or electricity."

electric system and the lights are turned off for a short time for repair, throwing the streets into darkness in which case the most experienced "night owl" has trouble in finding his way around the city.

No one appreciates the value of artificial gas more than the housewife of today. Instead of standing over a red hot stove that required constant poking and considerable fuel to get the needed heat, today, with artificial gas she simply turns a lever, applies a match and the hot, blue flame is there under the kettle ready for work. When through with of gas are made by the Interstate Public Service Company, namely: coal, gas and water gas. The former is the principal product and as soon as a new gas bench, which is now being installed is in working order, the manufacture of water gas will be discontinued entirely. Eight thousand pounds of Pittsburg coal are used each day in manufacturing Seymour's gas supply. The first step in the manufacture of gas is the placing of the coal in the retorts of the gas bench, there being six retorts to each bench. Each retort is air tight with pipes leading to a cooling room.

the gas, simply turns it off and her kitchen is as cool as ever. In these days of scarcity of stove wood, artificial gas plays a prominent part in home economies and saves the small boy of the family many a scolding when, without it, mother might find the wood-box empty or the kindling for the next morning's fire unprepared.

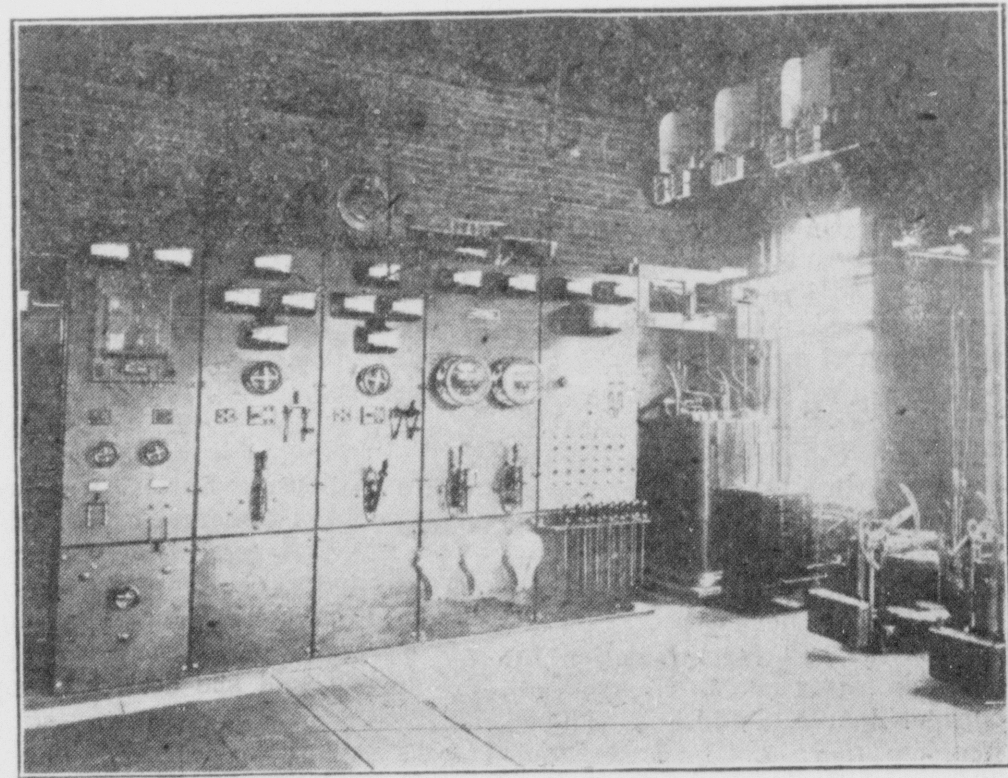

Seymour is indeed fortunate in

Under these gas benches is a furnace in which coke is used for fuel, supplying the great heat which is needed for the distillation of gas. In these retorts the coal remains from four to six hours subjected to a heat of about 475 degrees. As this intense heat comes in contact with the coal a vapor rises through an ascension pipe into a compartment that is called the cooling room where the major portion the main and reaches every portion of Seymour.

Water gas goes through practically the same process excepting that crude oil and water are used in the place of coke.

It will be seen that in addition to the gas, there are other products in the manufacture of coal gas. Coke, tar and ammoniacal liquor, all of which are valuable. The coke as a fuel; the tar as a raw material for gratified by the manner in which Seymour industries have taken hold of the idea and I believe it is only a question of time till all power will be furnished from a central plant, as it has been shown to be the most economical for the consumer and more sanitary for the city, doing away in a great measure with the smoke nuisance.

Mr. Wm. J. Peters, superintendent of the power plant, who has been with the plant under its different managements for the past twenty-five years and has seen its growth and improvement as possibly no other person employed by the company, said: "The Interstate Public Service Company has done wonders in improving the gas and electric power situation in Seymour. The plant is certainly in splendid condition to give the very best service to its patrons."

The downtown office of the company is located at 8 South Chestnut street, where all bills are paid and all business is transacted. In connection with this is a salesroom where gas stoves and many electrical appliances and fixtures are handled. Miss Julia Kerkhof, the local manager for the company, has full charge of this and of the business, assisted by Will Kendall, head bookkeeper.

At present a model kitchen is being installed which will show the housewife just how things should be arranged to have everything convenient

"The company gives a ten per cent discount to all users of electricity if the current bills are paid by the 15th of the month. Most of our patrons take advantage of this. We make every effort to collect gas and electric bills before the service is turned off and it is very seldom indeed that we are forced to extreme measures."

"Demonstrations are carried on from time to time in which we attempt to show the proper use of gas and electricity as well as to demonstrate the appliances we have for sale. I assure you these demonstrations are not held with a wholly selfish view to selling the appliances but also to educate the people so they may economize in the use of fuel and light. Some of the newest electrical appliances are the toasters, broilers, grills, percolators, irons and chafing dishes, most all of which are made of nickel plated aluminum and are very handsome as well as convenient articles. We also carry a complete line of gas water heaters, gas heaters and gas stoves which are sold at the most reasonable prices to encourage the use of gas and to reduce the drudgery of the kitchen."

The Interstate Public Service Company give employment to about thirty-five men, all of whom receive good living wages and as improvements are made from time to time more men will be added.

THE REPUBLICAN TICKET.
Without bluster but with a conscientious and earnest endeavor the Republicans of Seymour and Jackson township are working in harmony for the success of the party in the election this fall. Conditions are more propitious at the present time than at any time since the election two years ago. Many of those who became dissatisfied now recognize that it is for the best interests of the public that the total Republican strength be consolidated under the Republican banner. With two factions in the field the Democratic party has practically no opposition and under our political system the best results are obtained and the affairs of the city, township and county are administered when each party is required to select the strongest and most capable men available to win at the polls.

Hundreds of former Progressives have returned to the Republican fold this year and all of them state that the alleged abuses to which they objected have been corrected and it is now their duty to support the party that best represents the rights of the people.
With the nomination of Dr. W. M. Casey, as trustee, and Mr. A. A. Ruddick, as assessor, Republican success in Jackson township means more than the mere election of the candidates. It means that the affairs of the taxpayers will be placed in the hands of men who are pre-eminently qualified to become the people's representatives. Their honesty and integrity cannot be questioned and no one has a doubt but that they will give their best efforts to their duties as public officials.
The township trustee has direct supervision of the public schools in his territory and it is, therefore, of vital importance that a man be chosen for the position who is not only interested in education but has given careful study to the question. In this respect Dr. Casey is exceptionally well qualified. At the present time he is a member of the board of trustees of the city schools and has always maintained a great interest in educational work. It is also necessary that the township trustee be a good business man and in this respect Dr. Casey has a high rating. His wide acquaintance throughout the township would also be of great advantage to him in performing the duties of the office.
In many ways the nomination of Mr. Ruddick for assessor was wise. He is an energetic, young man who can give his personal attention to the work. He would make an able official and would serve the township well in this capacity. Mr. Miller who was nominated for justice of peace has had considerable experience in this office and his services have been highly satisfactory.

Now is the time for the Republicans to work shoulder to shoulder for the success of the excellent ticket which has been named. The existing harmony in the Republican ranks is conducive to successful results and there is no reason why the Republican vote in Jackson township this fall should not be the largest that has been polled for years.
The testimony of Charles S. Mel-len, former president of the New Haven Railroad, shows conclusively that J. P. Morgan had much to say about the financial management of the road. The evidence is important as there is every indication that "deals" were made by the financiers with eastern politicians and other influential men yet protection was given Morgan by the officers in his employ. There is little wonder that the road suffered financial reverses as the profits were not used to improve the property but to strengthen the position of the few money captains who held control.
The Reason Why.
"Indiana Is 'Broke' Under Democratic Rule."
"Indiana Needs More Tariff and Less Taxes."
"Democracy Raised the State Tax Levy 6.75 Cents."
"During 1913, the Democratic state administration spent $1,648,716.41 more than was spent during the closing year of the last Republican administration. That's why your taxes are so high."
"The last legislative session under republican rule, that of 1907, cost $130,024.87; the legislative session of 1913, under democratic rule, cost $162,507.67, an increase of $32,482.80 or 25 per cent. Another reason why your taxes are so high."
"During eight years of republican rule the Indiana state debt was decreased $3,194,452. During the first year of Ralston's administration the state debt was increased $216,000 and during the past few months the democratic administration has borrowed $600,000 from Chicago bankers."
"During the last year of the last republican administration the office of state gas inspector cost $4,237.92; last year, under democratic rule, this same office cost $8,656.18, an increase of 102 per cent. This is but one of the many reasons why your taxes are so high under democratic rule."
"During the last year of the last republican state administration the office of auditor of state cost $58,941.44; last year, under democratic rule, this same office cost $72,602.32, an increase of $13,660.88, or an increase of 23 per cent. This is one of the reasons why your taxes are so high under democratic rule."

FORMER PROGRESSIVE BACK IN THE REPUBLICAN RANKS
Member of Bull Moose Committee in Fulton County Urges United Fight.
Indianapolis, Ind., May 23.—Matt J. Kline, who served as a member of the Progressive County Committee of Fulton County in 1912, in a public statement has affiliated with the Republican party. Mr. Kline says that he and his four boys will support the Republican State and Congressional tickets this year. Mr. Kline says: "I am a Republican, and I believe in progress. I have learned to the sorrow of myself and the majority of the people of our nation that in our voting the Progressive ticket that we did not, as a state and nation, progress very far, and any school boy can see that the party we placed in power, by so doing, we are writing dark pages in our national history. In 1912 we did some things that were wrong in order to chastise some few men in the Republican party. We placed in power the Democratic party, which always makes a failure of nearly everything it does as a party. In aiding that party to power we not only chastised those few men, but we made thousands of our friends and neighbors suffer.

"I feel now that we can not longer afford to vote the Progressive ticket and continue the Democratic party in power and thereby make the thousands of innocent people suffer.
"Mr. Farmer and Mr. Laboring Man, how are times today compared with times under Republican rule? For instance, how do you like the Democratic rule in Tippecanoe township? If you want a good, honest administration in township, county, state and nation, help place in power the Republicans.
"My boys, four of them, will vote with me and intend to support the Republican nominees, whom we all can trust.
"The day has come when men can not afford to throw their influence and support to any one man in order to "get even" on some personal affair. Let each man fight his own personal battles. Let me appeal to every Progressive Republican to lay down these personal affairs and vote with the party of Lincoln, Grant and McKinley and recover what we lost in assisting the party of Cleveland and free soup houses."

Dean of Them All Casts His Gauntlet

Disgusted with the showing made by domestic drivers against foreign competition in 1913, Barney Oldfield, dean of American racing, seen above, entered the Indianapolis Decoration day five-hundred-mile race this year for the sole purpose of retrieving the nation's pride. If he fails to beat the Europeans it will be only because fate intended it otherwise.

SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES INTERESTED IN ATHLETICS

Several Institutions to Build New Gymnasiums Despite the Cry of Prominent Educators.

By United Press.
Indianapolis, May 23.—Though several Indiana educators have attacked colleges and schools in Indiana, declaring undue prominence is given athletics, the colleges are busy raising money for investment in gymnasiums. H. G. Brown, superintendent of the Lebanon schools, in an address before the Northern Indiana Teachers' Association, recently declared "scholarship has been sacrificed to athletics to the detriment of education. The state should foster the mental resources of the people as well as the physical strength."

The announcement yesterday from Wabash college that a gymnasium fund with a goal fixed at $75,000 was about to be started, came closely after similar announcements from other colleges. Earlham college wants $50,000 for a gymnasium, and DePauw promises that "before another basketball season we will have a gymnasium." Hanover makes the brag that few colleges in the state have a better gym. Arthur Hotchkiss in charge of athletics there writes: "Franklin has the only gymnasium of the colleges in the state that is as good or better than ours. The building here is six years old, well arranged and equipped, and has one of the fastest basketball floors, being enclosed on three sides."

At Earlham the class of 1914 has proposed to the board of trustees to dedicate its annual, the Sargasso, to the proposed gymnasium, and make the profits from it a class gift to the fund. Several wealthy people are expected to make substantial gifts. One plan proposed is that each one of the one thousand members of the alumni association pledge to give $10 a year for five years, making $50,000.

ENGLAND TAKING HAND IN AFFAIRS

Said to Be Trying to Persuade Huerta to Quit.

HE DOESN'T SEE IT THAT WAY

Latest From the Mexican Capital Has It That Efforts of British Ambassador to Bring Provisional President Over to the Resignation Idea Have Been Wholly Unsuccessful—Niagara Conference Making Some Progress.

Mexico City, May 23.—There is good reason to believe that Great Britain, through Sir Lionel Carden, her minister, is making every effort to induce President Huerta to place himself unreservedly in the hands of his envoys to Niagara Falls. There is a fresh official assurance, however, from the national palace that Huerta has not authorized the mediators to eliminate him in any contingency.

Niagara Falls, May 23.—The mediators continue their informal "conversations" with the delegates of the United States and Mexico. It is understood that the mediators have laid before the American delegates the terms which would be acceptable to General Huerta as outlined by the Mexican delegates during the meetings they have held with the mediators. It is believed these terms have given the mediators good reason to be extremely hopeful for a successful outcome of the negotiations.

One question discussed was the announcement that the rebels had decided to send a delegate to the mediation conference. Although neither the mediators nor the American delegates have received any confirmation of this report, the question as to whether or not such a delegate should be received was brought up. It is understood on good authority that the mediators are determined not to consent to hear any representative of General Carranza, even if he were bearer of the proper credentials. It was pointed out that Carranza had rejected the invitation which was tendered him by the mediators, and the latter consequently withdrew the offer they had sent him to be represented at the conference.

Government by Commission.

It is understood that the mediation proceedings have now reached a stage where the mediators have proposed the organization of a commission form of government in Mexico pending the organization of constitutional government. This plan of course contemplates the elimination of Huerta. The understanding is that the mediators have proposed a commission form of government to consist of three representatives, one representing Carranza, one Huerta and one possibly Zapata. It is understood that President Wilson favors a provisional government by five commissioners and the assumption is that he would be given a voice in the selection of the commission.

If the views of Carranza are accurately reflected by his representatives in Washington, there is a doubt whether he will consent to consider any commission form of government. His agents there contend that such a government is absolutely unconstitutional and that Carranza intends to stand upon the Mexican constitution, as he has from the beginning of his fight.

It is believed that the Mexican delegates have been very liberal in the concessions they are willing to make for the establishment of a new provisional government pending the holding of a constitutional election. It is understood they have shown a very tolerant attitude toward the views of the American government for fundamental reforms in Mexico, such as new land laws, though it is apparent that no substantial progress has been made toward this element of the question, since Carranza has not been brought in. That is why the United States is renewing its efforts to make him see the light.

War Aviator's Machine Falls.

San Diego, Cal., May 23.—Gustavo Salinas, the Constitutional aviator who has been doing so much damage to the federalists in Mazatlan, was badly injured when his biplane fell, just after he had risen from the ground to make one of his flights over the beleaguered city. The biplane was smashed and Salinas was picked up unconscious and it is thought he will die. Salinas is a nephew of General Carranza.

John D. Facing the Assessors.

Cleveland, May 23.—John D. Rockefeller is to have until 10 o'clock Monday morning to file a return on his personal property. The return must bear Rockefeller's own signature or else the tax commissioners will make their own return on the property, which they estimate to be worth $300,000.

FUGITIVE FEDERALS
NOW HARD PRESSED

Villa Pushing Advantage Gained at Saltillo.

Torreón, Mexico, May 23.—"After we capture Queretaro, the key to the capital, we will march into Mexico City singing 'La Golondrina,'" said Pancho Villa. "La Golondrina" is Mexico's "Home Sweet Home."

Villa's army now is making forced marches southward from the captured city of Saltillo in pursuit of the ten thousand federalists who evacuated Saltillo Thursday. It is believed that the retreating federalists have been checked along the railway between San Luis Potosí and Saltillo. Prominent rebel officials here say that Villa had prepared for a federal retreat and predicted that the Huertistas would not make the "getaway" they did at Torreón. This is cause for the belief that his forces are close on the heels of the fleeing column, if they have not already overtaken them.

General Pascual Orozco felt the power of the revolution when a column of 5,000 federalists whom he had led out from San Luis Potosí against the rebels, were routed by General Torres at the village of Carovada, about thirty miles northeast of the capital. No mention is made in the dispatch of the losses on either side. It is the belief among rebel military and civil officials that Orozco sallied out from San Luis Potosí to clear the way for the entrance of the federal army, supposed to be attempting to join the Huerta troops in San Luis Potosí. Orozco had been missing since January, when Mercado's federal army fled across the border from Ojinaga to Presidio, Tex. He had been reported at various points on both sides of the border since that time, but this is the first definite news regarding his whereabouts in several months.

SILLIMAN ON THE WAY HOME, REPORTED SAFE

American Vice Consul's Fate No Longer a Mystery.

Washington, May 23.—In safety Vice Consul John R. Silliman has reached Mexico City and will start on his journey to the United States today.

Silliman, for whom the state department has been making frantic inquiry and search ever since the first reports several weeks ago of his incarceration in the jail at Saltillo, is now in the Brazilian legation in the Mexican capital. The information of Silliman's safe arrival was telegraphed to the state department by Senor Cardoza, the Brazilian ambassador in Mexico. State department officials are greatly relieved over the safety of the American consular representative. Disregarding humanitarian reasons, it was feared that a rearrest of the American vice consul, which was persistently reported in unofficial dispatches from the Saltillo district, would eventually have the effect of severing all pretense of dealing with the Huerta government through diplomatic channels and would seriously threaten the mediation proceedings. It is understood that armed guards from the legation, carrying the Brazilian flag, will accompany Silliman to Vera Cruz, as was done with several hundred American refugees leaving Mexico City.

JURY BELIEVED THAT
ROSE TOLD THE TRUTH

Five Ballots Are Required for Becker's Conviction.

New York, May 23.—Charles Becker has been convicted for the second time of the murder of Herman Rosenthal. The jurors came to this conclusion on the fifth ballot.

They could have saved Becker's life even in finding him guilty if they had wanted to show mercy. Justice Seabury had told them they could choose among three degrees of murder, and two of these degrees would have meant imprisonment. But they believed that Jack Rose told the truth when he said that Becker ordered, arranged and paid for the assassination of the gambler who was about to ruin him.

Justice Seabury, after brief consideration, announced that Becker was remanded to the Tombs until May 29, when he will be sentenced.

Mrs. Becker collapsed completely. Sobbing, she threw her arms around her husband's neck and buried her face on his shoulder.

"Oh," she cried, "Charlie, I'm so sorry, so sorry. Poor Charlie. I did not expect it." She could say no more. She released her husband from her embrace and dropped into a chair. Becker stood looking down at her as she wept. Handcuffs were then locked about his wrists and he was taken across the bridge of sighs and into the Tombs.

MAY PRECIPITATE
THE FINAL CLASH

Huerta Contemplating Attack On American Troops.

ONLY WAY TO "SAVE HIS FACE"

Preferring to Have Wood and Funston in Control in Mexico City Than Villa and Zapata, Old Dictator Is Said to Be Arranging For Troop Movement Which He Knows Would Demand Instant Intervention.

Vera Cruz, May 23.—One of the foremost members of the American colony of Mexico City, who refused to leave until two days ago, has arrived at Vera Cruz.

"I left because an outbreak is inevitable at the capital," he said. "Huerta's own conduct will bring it about despite the desperate measures he is taking to prevent it. The city is bubbling now and must boil over."

"Huerta appears to have lost his reason. He is acting like a man willing to sacrifice everything with himself. General Aureliano Blanquet, his minister of war, is the only strong man he has left in his cabinet, but because he fears that the mobs may select Blanquet to bring about the downfall, Huerta has repeatedly ordered the dismissal of the soldier, whose patriotism is beyond insinuation. Not even Huerta has been strong enough to cast out Blanquet. Every attempt he has made to do it has been met with a strong protest from quarters even he has to respect."

"Huerta will never resign. He will die at the post he snatched over the dead body of Madero. The belief is growing that rather than see Villa at the gates of his capital, Huerta will bring about American intervention. He would much rather have Wood and Funston than Villa and Zapata. It is considered likely that after the next decisive battle to the north he will order General Pena to attack the American forces around Vera Cruz and thus precipitate action which will put the rebels back in third place."

Refugees arriving from the interior were not molested, but they found that many small bands of bandits have begun operations along the line of the railway above Cordoba. They are preying on everybody, and the demoralization of the army is such they are not bothered.

GRAND STAND GAVE WAY

A Thousand Persons Caught in Crash at Evansville.

Evansville, Ind., May 23.—Fifty women and children were injured, several perhaps fatally, when temporary bleachers collapsed at the local baseball park late Friday afternoon during the annual field day exercises of the public schools. More than 1,000 persons were thrown to the ground when the timbers gave way. The most seriously injured are the Rev. A. M. Couchman, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schmidt, Mrs. Catherine DeBruiler, whose injuries may prove fatal, and Mrs. C. W. Bell. The Rev. Mr. Couchman, both of whose legs are broken, is pastor of the Central M. E. church. More than a dozen others suffered broken arms or legs, while in numerous cases internal injuries were received which may develop seriously.

The majority of those injured are parents and relatives of the children taking part in the exercises. The stand that gave way was a temporary affair constructed by employees of the public schools.

The crash came during the last number, a butterfly dance by girls of the seventh grade. Timbers in the center of the stand cracked and in an instant the crowd was a struggling sea of humanity with rescuers attempting to pull heavy timbers off the injured. A temporary hospital was erected under the grandstand and those more seriously injured were laid out on tables until they could be carried away in ambulances.

Leaped From Hospital Window.

Hammond, Ind., May 23.—Fannie Johns, aged fifty-eight, climbed out on the third-story sill of a window at St. Margaret's hospital and jumped to her death.

Samuel Bleier, former cashier of the Victor Savings bank of McKees Rocks, Pa., pleaded guilty of embezzling $20,000 from the bank and was sentenced to prison.

ACCEPTED RESPONSIBILITY

How Charles S. Mellen Shielded the Late J. P. Morgan.

Washington, May 23.—Charles S. Mellen, ex-president of the New Haven railroad, ended his four days' confession before the interstate commerce commission with the statement that he had subjected himself to indictment under the Sherman anti-trust law in order to shield the late J. P. Morgan. This was in the so-called Grand Trunk conspiracy, on account of which Mellen stands under indictment.

Mr. Mellen asserted that he wrote a letter to the district attorney in New York assuming entire responsibility for the so-called Grand Trunk deal because he realized that Morgan's health was poor and that to subject him to the grand jury proceedings probably would have resulted in his death.

Mellen disclosed that J. P. Morgan, Jr., was the New Haven director, who after the death of the older Morgan suggested that it was advisable for Mellen to retire from the New Haven. Mellen said he told the younger Morgan then that he had suffered the humiliation of an indictment for his father's sake and that J. P. Morgan Jr. turned to him and acknowledged that his father's health at that time was such that it would have killed him. Mellen's utterances were delivered under impressive circumstances and he gave evidence of being deeply affected.

Sick Headache.

Mrs. A. L. Luckie, East Rochester, N. Y., was a victim of sick headache and despondency, caused by a badly weakened and debilitated condition of her stomach, when she began taking Chamberlain's Tablets. Enraged Italian Kills Engineer.

South Bend, Ind., May 23.—Edwin Bird, aged thirty-eight, an engineer on the C. I. and S. railroad, was shot to death by an enraged Italian who attempted to ride by climbing into the locomotive cab with the engineer. Bird put him off. When the Italian reached the ground he drew a revolver and fired five shots into Bird. The foreigner later gave himself up.

Whooping Cough.

"About a year ago my three boys Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the only one that would relieve their coughing and whooping spells. The Story of Waitstill Baxter

By KATE DOUGLAS WIGGIN

Copyright, 1913, by Kate Douglas Wiggin

CHAPTER XIII.

Ivory's Mother.

"I HAD a daughter once," she said. "My second baby was a girl, but she lived only a few weeks. I need her very much, for I am a great care to Ivory. He is son and daughter both, now that Mr. Boynton is away from home. You did not see any one in the road as you turned in from the bars, I suppose?"

"No," answered Waitstill, surprised and confused, "but I didn't recall place for my horse to stand."

"I sit out here in these warm afternoons," Mrs. Boynton continued, shading her eyes and looking across the fields, "because I can see so far down the lane. I have the supper table set for my husband already, and there is a surprise for him, a saucer of wild strawberries I picked for him this morning. If he does not come I always take away the plate and cup before Ivory gets here. It seems to make him unhappy."

"He doesn't like it when you are disappointed, I suppose," Waitstill ventured. "I have brought my knitting. Mrs. Boynton, so that I needn't keep you idle if you wish to work. May I sit down a few minutes? And here is a cottage cheese for Ivory and Rodman and a jar of plums for you preserved from my own garden."

Mrs. Boynton's eyes searched the face of this visitor from a world she had almost forgotten and, finding nothing but tenderness there, said, with just a trace of bewilderment: "Thank you. Yes, do sit down. My workbasket is just inside the door. Take that rocking chair. I don't have another one out here because I have never been in the habit of seeing visitors."

"I hope I am not intruding," stammered Waitstill, seating herself and beginning her knitting to see if it would lessen the sense of strain between them.

"Not at all. I always loved young and beautiful people, and so did my husband. If he comes while you are here do not go away, but sit with him while I get his supper. If Elder Cochran should be with him you would see two wonderful men. They went away together to do some missionary work in Maine and New Hampshire, and perhaps they will come back together. I do not welcome callers because they always ask so many difficult questions, but you are different and have asked me none at all."

"I should not think of asking questions, Mrs. Boynton."

"Not that I should mind answering them," continued Ivory's mother, "except that it tires my head very much to think. You must not imagine I am ill; it is only that I have a very bad memory, and when people ask me to remember something or to give an answer quickly it confuses me the more. Even now I have forgotten why you came and where you live, but I have not forgotten your beautiful name."

"Ivory thought you might be lonely, and I wanted so much to know you that I could not keep away any longer, for I am lonely and unhappy too. I am always watching and hoping for what has never come yet. I have no mother, you have lost your daughter; I thought—I thought—perhaps we could be a comfort to each other." And Waitstill rose from her chair and put out her hand to help Mrs. Boynton down the steps, she looked so frail, so transparent, so prematurely aged. "I could not come very often, but if I could only smooth your hair sometimes when your head aches or do some cooking for you or read to you or any little thing like that as I would for my own mother, if I could, I should be so glad."

Waitstill stood a head higher than Ivory's mother, and the glowing health of her, the steadiness of her voice, the warmth of her handclasp must have made her seem like a strong refuge to this storm-tossed derelict. The deep furrow between Lois Boynton's eyes relaxed a trifle, the blood in her veins ran a little more swiftly under the touch of the young hand that held hers so closely. Suddenly a light came into her face and her lip quivered.

"Perhaps I have been remembering wrong all these years," she said. "It is my great trouble, remembering wrong. Perhaps my baby did not die as I thought; perhaps she lived and grew up; perhaps—her pale cheek burned and her eyes shone like stars—perhaps she has come back!"

Waitstill could not speak. She put her arm round the trembling figure, holding her as she was wont to hold Patty and with the same protective instinct. The embrace was electric in its effect and set altogether new currents of emotion in circulation. Something in Lois Boynton's perturbed mind seemed to beat its wings against the barriers that had heretofore opposed it and, freeing itself, mounted into clearer air and went singing to the sky. She rested her cheek on the girl's breast with a little sob. "Oh, let me go on remembering wrong!" she sighed from that safe shelter. "Let me go on remembering wrong! It makes me so happy!"

Waitstill gently led her to the rocking chair and sat down beside her on the lowest step, stroking her thin hand. Mrs. Boynton's eyes were closed, her breath came and went quickly, but presently she began to speak hurriedly as if she were relieving a surcharged heart.

"There is something troubling me," she began, "and it would ease my mind if I could tell it to some one who could help. Your hand is so warm and so firm! Oh, hold mine closely and let me draw in strength as long as you can spare it! It is flowing, flowing from your hand into mine, flowing like wine. My thoughts at night are not like my thoughts by day these last weeks. I wake suddenly and feel that my husband has been away a long time and will never come back. Often at night, too, I am in some trouble about something else, something I have never told Ivory, the first thing I have ever hidden from my dear son, but I think I could tell you if only I could be sure about it."

"Tell me if it will help you. I will try to understand," said Waitstill brokenly.

"Ivory says Rodman is the child of my dead sister. Some one must have told him so. Could it have been I? It haunts me day and night, for unless I am remembering wrong again I never had a sister. I can call to mind neither sister nor brother."

"You went to New Hampshire one winter," Waitstill reminded her gently, as if she were talking to a child. "It was bitter cold for you to take such a hard journey. Your sister died and you brought her little boy, Rodman, back, but you were so ill that a stranger had to take care of you on the stagecoach and drive you to Edgewood next day in his own sleigh. It is no wonder you have forgotten something of what happened, for Dr. Perry hardly brought you through the brain fever that followed that journey."

"I seem to think now that it is not so," said Mrs. Boynton, opening her eyes and looking at Waitstill despairingly. "I must grope and grope in the dark until I find out what is true and then tell Ivory. God will punish false-speaking! His heart is closed against lies and evildoing!"

"He will never punish you if your tired mind remembers wrong," said Waitstill. "He knows, none better, how you have tried to find him and hold him through many a tangled path. I will come as often as I can, and we will try to frighten away these worrying thoughts."

"If you will only come now and then, hold my hand," said Ivory's mother, "hold my hand so that your strength will flow into my weakness, perhaps I shall puzzle it all out and God will help me to remember right before I die."

"Everything that I have power to give away shall be given to you," promised Waitstill. "Now that I know you and you trust me you shall never be left so alone again—not for long, at any rate. When I stay away you will remember that I cannot help it, won't you?"

"Yes, I shall think of you till I see you again. I shall watch the long lane more than ever now. Ivory sometimes takes the path across the fields, but my dear husband will come by the old road, and now there will be you to look for!"

"If you will only come now and then and hold my hand."

At the Baxters the late supper was over, and the girls had not sat at the table with their father, having eaten earlier by themselves. The hired men had gone home to sleep. Patty had retired to the solitude of her bedroom almost at dusk, quite worn out with the heat, and Waitstill sat under the peach tree in the corner of her own little garden, tating and thinking of her interview with Ivory's mother. She sat there until nearly 8 o'clock, trying vainly to put together the puzzling details of Lois Boynton's conversation, wondering whether the perplexities that vexed her mind were real or fancied, but warned to the heart by the affection that the older woman seemed instinctively to feel for her. "She did not know me, yet she cared for me at once," thought Waitstill tenderly and proudly, "and I for her, too, at the first glance."

She heard her father lock the barn and shed and knew that he would be

MANY OF THE NEW SILKS ARE WONDERFULLY TRANSPARENT, YET DURABLE

Sweet, old-fashioned patterns and colors mark the new silks this season; the violent shades and large designs that were predicted late last season have not met with the expected popularity. Foulards are being used in quaint patterns, such as sprigs and leaves, tiny ovals, pin stripes, crisscrosses and charming black and white designs. Faille is a favored silk for afternoon dresses and for blouses and evening wear there are some very attractive chiffons, sheer to a degree, but remarkably durable. Some of these figured and checked chiffons might easily have been used in Marie Antoinette's day, they are so quaint and old-fashioned looking; these are used for draperies and panniers mostly, although now and then a blouse is made up in one of them showing a rosebud or odd little conventional figure. Taffeta is used for almost all purposes.

The afternoon costume shown in No. 8280-8282 is developed in black taffeta with bodice and plaited overskirt of chiffon cloth in a dull shade of blue. The odd cut to the sleeve and the collar are distinguishing features of this frock, and the two-piece skirt with the plaited overskirt in front and the peg-top effect in back is also attractive.

To copy this costume in size 36, 3 yards of 36-inch material are required for the blouse (8280), and 3½ yards of the same width for the skirt (8282).

For a girl of sixteen, 5½ yards of 36-inch material are needed.

No. 8282—sizes 22 to 30.
No. 8280—sizes 34 to 42.
No. 8303—sizes 14 to 18.
Each pattern 15 cents.

GOSSIP FROM THE CAPITAL

Bits of Washington News of Particular Interest to Hoosiers.

Washington, May 23.—Senators Shively and Kern, it is said, will shortly ask for the removal of Edward H. Schmidt, United States marshal for the district of Indiana, on the ground that he is not in harmony with the machinery of the United States court. Schmidt's commission does not expire until May 9, next year. During the last few months several Republican United States marshals have been dropped, prior to the expiration of the terms for which they were appointed.

The senators, it is understood, have agreed to recommend the appointment of Dr. T. E. Stuckey of Indianapolis as collector of customs to succeed L. G. Rothschild and Mark Storen of Scottsburg, to succeed Schmidt as marshal.

The bureau of engraving and printing is now handing out to tourists a photograph of Vice President Marshall, done up in a neat little package. The other day an Indiana man who visited the bureau in company with his ten-year-old daughter received one of the packages and both he and the daughter were under the impression that it contained a sample of United States money. When they returned to the hotel and opened the package the daughter exclaimed, with some disgust, "Oh pshaw!"

SPECIAL TO WOMEN

The most economical, cleansing and germicidal of all antiseptics is

Paxtine

A soluble Antiseptic Powder to be dissolved in water as needed.

As a medicinal antiseptic for douches in treating catarrh, inflammation or ulceration of nose, throat, and that caused by feminine ills it has no equal. For ten years the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. has recommended Paxtine in their private correspondence with women, which proves its superiority. Women who have been cured say it is "worth its weight in gold." CHIROPRACTIC

(Ki-ro-prak-tik)

Is the science of adjusting the subluxations (displacements) in the spinal column, commonly called back bone, for the purpose of removing the pressure from impinged nerves. The spinal column is the only place where nerves pass between two hard, bony, movable surfaces; therefore, it is the only place nerves can be impinged or the nerve supply restricted, and it matters not what part of the body or organ is affected, the cause is in the spinal column.

We simply analyze the spine and tell you where you are affected. Chiropractic is the only science that removes the cause of disease. No drugs, no pain, no knife. We use nothing but our hands, and the whole object is accomplished when the nerves are released. Paralysis, deafness, loss of voice, catarrh, gall stones, overweight, rheumatism, appendicitis, neuralgia, neurasthenia, epilepsy, St. Vitus dance, eye, ear, throat, lungs, stomach, liver, kidney, bladder trouble, etc., all quickly and permanently disappear under Chiropractic adjustment, properly given. We remove the cause of disease and nature cures. Analysis and consultation free. Investigation costs you nothing and means your life, health and happiness.

Have you sought health with no permanent results and now pronounced incurable? If so investigate Chiropractic.

W. A. CARTER & SON

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Sanders and son, who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Russell Sanders, went to Paoli this morning to visit relatives before returning home.

Mrs. Charles Leininger, North Chestnut street, is suffering considerably from an injury to her knee which she received several days ago in a fall. She was walking in the kitchen and slipped, falling in such a manner that the knee was wrenched.

The annual commencement exercises of Oxford College, at Oxford, O., will be held Tuesday, June 9, and a special invitation has been issued to all former students to attend. Mrs. A. A. Davison and daughter, Miss Eleuthera Davison, both graduates from this college, will attend.

Work on the new 'Farmers' Club building is satisfactorily. Some attention is being given to the dedicatory exercises. While it was first planned to open the building without formal ceremonies so many prominent persons have asked to be present at that time that a special program may be arranged.

About fifty Boy Scouts and Pathfinders met at the high school gymnasium Friday evening. After a calisthenic drill led by Dr. Robeson an unusual feature of the evening was the serving of ice cream to all the boys. The cream was furnished by Mrs. B. F. Schneck in appreciation of the work the Scouts did for the city during Clean-up Week, and the unexpected treat was greatly appreciated.

Dr. D. L. Robeson, who has had charge of the Dr. Spannhurst Osteopathic practice here for the past year, will leave Sunday for Kansas City, Mo., where he will locate in business for himself. Mrs. Robeson and son will join him in about ten days. During Dr. Robeson's residence in Seymour he has been successful in his work and has made many friends who regret to have them leave.

DELEGATES WILL ASK FOR WALTHER LEAGUE MEETING

German Lutheran Societies Will Hold State Convention at Valparaiso Sunday—300 Expected

Delegates of the Young People's Society and the Social Aid Society of the German Lutheran church who will attend the state convention of the Walther League at Valparaiso, Sunday, will ask that the meeting be held in Seymour next year. The League is composed of the members of the two societies and it is expected that about three hundred delegates and visitors will attend the convention.

Among the local delegates who will be present are Walter H. Droege, Ernest Brunow, Alf Brand, Otto Ahlbrand, Miss Esther Steinwedel, Miss Maude Taskey and Miss Luella Brand. Mr. Brunow and Mr. Brand left this morning and the others will leave tonight so they will reach Valparaiso in time for the first session Sunday.

Although the local societies joined the League about a year ago they believe they have an excellent opportunity to bring the convention to Seymour. It has never been held in southern Indiana. Indianapolis, Ft. Wayne and Evansville are also asking for the meeting in 1915.

The local delegates have two hundred "Seymour" badges to distribute and have also prepared a card showing the location of Seymour and its railroad advantages. They will emphasize that the city can be easily reached from the northern Indiana cities and have been promised the assistance and support of several societies in various parts of the state.

$13,000 in Real Estate.

The E. C. Bollinger Real Estate Agency has made the following real estate sales:

Tom C. Groub has purchased three lots on North Poplar street in the A. W. Dickinson addition, for $2400 cash. Mr. Groub expects to build a fine home in these lots some time in the near future.

Mrs. Anna M. Bollinger has purchased the remaining lots in the Dickinson addition just south of the Groub lots for $3200.

Mr. M. S. Blish has purchased the modern 7-room residence on North Walnut street owned by Prof. J. A. Linke, formerly superintendent of the Shields high school, for $3250 cash.

Mr. William Rottger of the Seymour Woolen Mills, has purchased the Christie property on North Poplar street, for $2,000 cash. Mr. Rottger will make some extensive improvements on his new property during the summer and will take possession of his property some time in the fall.

Mr. Dallas Tyler has purchased the Chas. Dahlenburg camp grounds at Shieldstown for $750 cash. Mr. Tyler is making some extensive improvements on his new grounds and when completed will be one of the most attractive camping grounds in this part of the state.

Stomach Trouble; Wholly Restored!

Mrs. Wilson Robison, 744 Nessel St., Toledo, Ohio, writes:

"I feel like a new person. I tell them Peruna did it. I will say it is the only remedy for spring and all other ailments. No argument is needed for Peruna. Just get a bottle and try it. If you have catarrh of the stomach you have a serious trouble. If you want to find a remedy it would be very easy to make the experiment. Before you have taken Peruna a week you will likely find yourself better, then you will need no testimonials on the part of other people, or arguments to convince you. Until you try Peruna, however, all the testimonials in the world and arguments, however logical, will not move you. Just one trial of Peruna will convince you."

Persons who object to liquid medicines can now obtain Peruna Tablets.

DIVORCE YOURSELF From Dirt, Dust and Drudgery

by using a Duntley

Combination Pneumatic Sweeper

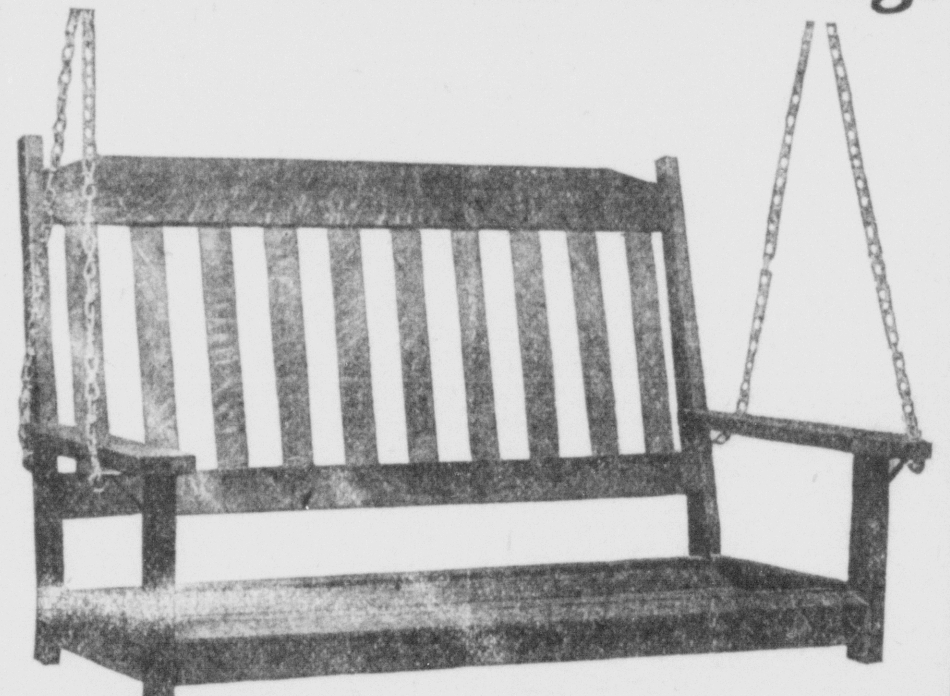

Release from broom drudgery—from the strain of moving and lifting furniture and from the dangerous scattering of dust and germs that are raised by the use of the broom and the old fashioned carpet sweeper, can be attained by the use of the Duntley Combination Pneumatic Sweeper, which, although easily operated by hand, creates a powerful suction force which draws out all the dirt and dust found in your rugs and carpets and at the same time the revolving brush picks up all lint, pins, threads, ravelings, etc.

THE DUNTLEY SWEEPERS are made in three sizes and sold under a rigid guarantee for one year. You may try a Duntley in your own home for 10 days Free of Charge.

person selected for first go in this game places a penny in the center circle and holding it with the thumb as illustrated above, thumps it with the other forefinger. The circle on which it finally stops indicates the number of feet leaped. Each player takes his or her turn and the first to leap a total of 200 feet wins the game. If the penny spins off the board the player gets another go. You'll find it best to paste this entire board on cardboard before beginning, but the game can be played without doing so. Place the playing board on a level table for best results.

ANNA BELLE Now Taking Piano Lessons

Dear Friends.—I know you think I'm taking quite a variety of lessons lately, but they're all in subjects I enjoy very much and that makes the work much easier. I'm learning to play the piano now and my teacher says I'm getting along fine. Brother Harold takes cornet lessons and sometimes we try to play together but so far haven't had much success in doing this. The music I'm showing you is the first few measures of "Old Kentucky Home." Get mother or big sister to play it for you if you cannot. I like my teacher just fine and I'm sure she'll have me playing dandy in a short time.

The postman brought me a great bunch of letters from friends in yesterday's mail and it seems as though every one wanted several Certificates of Membership for the members of their SEWING SOCIETY. If you haven't sent for yours why not do so now. Just sit down and write me care of this paper enclose a two-cent stamp for postage and I'll be glad to send as many as you wish for yourself and new members.

Also tell me of the good work you are doing in Society work and everything you can think of. I'm always so glad to get your interesting letters, and especially so when you can report good work in SEWING SOCIETY work. Write often as you can to your loving,

Anna Belle
